"Jesus sent them out in pairs"

Jesus sent out seventy-two disciples to prepare the way for him. These followers were being sent to fields ripe for the harvest. But they will not find it easy. They must depend entirely upon God's providence and protection. They were to warn those who rejected the call to repent that divine judgment was at hand. When the seventy-two returned from their mission they rejoiced because the forces of evil were being conquered. But there would be more battles. Jesus told them that they should rejoice more that God was working through them and would always be close to them.

CAFOD & carbon footprint

CAFOD and its supporters along with supporters of over 100 like-minded organisations – members of The Climate Coalition – were part of a mass lobby of parliament on Wednesday 26 June, sharing our concerns on climate change and the environment with politicians who can make a difference. We can all reduce our individual carbon footprint, whether it's through cutting down on our energy consumption, or by committing to one car-free day a week, having a 'staycation' rather than flying abroad, or taking up cycling. Whichever way we decide to tackle climate change, remember small actions can have big impacts, not only on the environment, but on the welfare of our brothers and sisters across the globe.

The Padua Room

The builders pulled out the stops this week and while the Padua room was not fully complete it was possible for Bishop Paul to bless the new building and for parishioners to take a look inside. The site is now clear and you can go in to see it today. The Room should be in use by the end of this week, though we'll still need tables/chairs, cups etc.

We are going to put a time capsule outside the front door to be opened in 50 years. The Primary and High school are placing items in it. You are invited to suggest any items to include –but they must be small (cylinder is 4" diameter and the length of an A4 sheet.) Will put a list at back of church for suggestions.

The weather blessed the Parish walk again this year. A very enjoyable walk along the canal with a picnic in Haslam Park afterwards. Celebrating CAFOD's 'Our Common Home' campaign.
