The Miracle Begins when the Wine Runs Out

'The literal interpretation of Scripture is the least helpful. The symbolic level is the level filled with meaning that changes our lives. We don't know if the events in today's Gospel really happened in this way, but there are a lot of give-aways that there is a deeper message here. One of these is the focus on the six stone jars that were used for purification rites. Much of the history of religion is about ceremonial washing where the emphasis is on purification because we are not perfect enough. The jars in today's Gospel are empty. Jesus filled the jars to the brim with wine. This is not just a miracle story. It is a transformational story about what Jesus is bringing about in the history of religion. We thought that religion was about a list of requirements which we have to fulfil so that God will love us. As in so many Scripture passages, matrimonial imagery is used in today's Gospel to tell us that what God wants with humanity is a love affair, a marriage. We find it difficult to accept that God would want such an intimate relationship with us, so we keep going back to the six empty jars of purifying water, to fulfilling the law. But laws don't teach us how to love. In today's Gospel, Jesus changes the focus of religion from a religion of legalism to a religion of love, filled to the brim with joy and celebration. [1]

Today's Gospel could also be symbolic of those times when our lives seem empty and dry, when we 'have no wine.' 'Each one of us could tell a story about the day the wine gave out: stories of failure, self-doubt, regrets or disappointments; stories of loss – of a loved one or of a familiar way of life. We become increasingly aware that we cannot replenish the wine of our life from our own resources. Regardless of how it feels or what we think about it, the day the wine runs out is the beginning of a miracle. That day confronts us with a truth as old as creation itself: we are the recipients and not the creators of our life. We were never intended nor expected to live by the sufficiency of our own resources.' [2] When we freely surrender to God's loving, sustaining presence in our lives, our hearts are filled to the brim with 'a peace that passes all understanding' (Phil 4:7), a peace that enables us to rejoice once more in God's outpouring of so many gifts; a peace that reassures us that 'there is no such thing, either in the world or in the heart as a vacuum. And whatever space is really left by apparent emptiness, there is God.' [3]

Peace Sunday

Today is PEACE SUNDAY and this year Pope Francis asks us to think about 'Education, work and dialogue between generations: tools for building lasting peace'. The need for peace in the world is obvious. People are struggling against violence and conflict, growing inequalities, the effects of climate change and the covid pandemic. How can we harness the gifts and energy of all generations in the work of peacemaking? Which 'tools for building lasting peace' do you think Pope Francis might be talking about? In this country we have an active Catholic peace movement in Pax Christi, which does a great deal of good work to promote peace and nonviolence through parishes, schools and social media. Their website suggests many ways we can all become better peace-makers. There are activities for families to do at home, including a peace liturgy for young children. <https://paxchristi.org.uk/peace-sunday-2022>

Octave of Prayer for Christian Unity

The annual week of prayer from 18th-25 January has not been well supported in recent years and made worse by the covid restrictions. Not all the dates have currently been filled but the following are confirmed:
Tues. 18th Jan. 6.00pm Fulwood Methodist; Wed 19th Jan. 10.00am Broughton Parish;
Thurs. 20th Jan. 10.30am Christ Church, Fulwood; Fri. 21st Jan. vacant
Sat. 22nd Jan. 6.00pm Mass at ST. ANTHONY'S Sun. 23rd Jan. vacant
Mon. 24th Jan. vacant Tues. 25th Jan. St. Clare's TBC

First Reconciliation & Holy Communion. And Confirmation

We will be starting preparation for the Sacraments of Reconciliation and Holy Communion in the New Year. Any children not in St. Anthony's school should have a word with Fr. Peter. St Anthony's After-School Club position

We are looking for a friendly, reliable and energetic playworker to join our team. The ideal candidate should have some experience of working with children and preferably a childcare qualification although this is not essential. For further details about the duties involved and to visit the club, please call 07507304908 to speak to the manager.

Lunch will be provided. The venue is Our Lady and St Joseph, Warwick Square, Carlisle, CA1 1LB. There is no expectation of commitment. If you would like to join us please book a place by email: fr.ruscillo@carlislecatholicchurch.org

Omicron virus

At this stage we have had no additional guidance from the Bishops' Conference but it makes sense to exercise prudence and to reinforce the current mitigations we have in place, including ventilation of churches. Maybe any planned parish social events, due to take place in enclosed spaces should be postponed or suspended at this time." With this in mind we'll suspend Coffee after Mass for a month to see how things pan out.

Lancaster Diocesan Directories
