Nature's Lesson on Letting Go

'We are currently celebrating the Season of Creation which runs each year from 1 September (World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation) to 4 October (the feast of Saint Francis of Assisi). It is a time to give thanks for all that God has made and to commit ourselves to take action to protect the earth, our common home.' [1] 'The first act of divine revelation is creation itself. The first Bible is the Bible of nature. Nature can only be respected, enjoyed and looked at with admiration and awe. Sitting lovingly at the feet of the first Bible enables us to relate and respond to the revelations of the second Bible.' [2]

We are about to enter into the season of Autumn, the season of letting go. 'In today's gospel, Jesus challenges his disciples to let go of two of their misconceptions. Firstly, he wanted to prepare them for bad news (the Passion) and good news (the Resurrection), but they did not want to hear him. Jesus' prediction of the future was incomprehensible because it did not coincide with the disciples' hopes and plans. Secondly, Jesus presents to his disciples a completely different interpretation of the word 'greatness', one which involves service, of being last. We're not told their reaction to this but we can imagine that they also found it difficult to accept.' [3]

'Autumn leaves are subtle reminders that we are asked to let go of many things throughout our lives.' [4] We are in a constant process of integrating new information, aspects of ourselves, perceptions and ideas, as we realise that old ways of doing things no longer work. Releasing unnecessary, unhelpful beliefs and attitudes recharges our body and mind. We receive back all the energy we were expending on them. The old ways, however, don't need to be tossed into the trash. On the contrary, like the leaves that drop from the trees, they can serve as the foundation for new growth and fuel for renewal. [5]

Whenever we are called to let go of something safe, secure and familiar we are invited to be birthed again. Each radical change in our lives summons us to a greater fullness, to a more complete transformation of our inner self. ' [4]

For ideas please go to <https://faith-justice.co/> and cafod.org.uk For tips on energy saving, please go to <https://diocesehn.org.uk/news/diocesan-environmental-group-publishes-small-things-guide/>.
